

Workshop “Adoptive immunotherapy for cancer”

TUESDAY 25.09.2018
9.00 – 10.00	REGISTRATION, COFFEE BREAK
10.00 -10.15	Presentation of STREAM project Magdalena Winiarska, PhD, Medical University of Warsaw, Poland
10.15 – 10.45	Lorenzo Galluzzi, PhD, Weill Cornell Medical College, New York, United States Autophagy in cancer (immuno)therapy, a quantity-quality conundrum
10.45 – 11.00	Q&A
11.00 – 11.30	Jon Amund Kyte, MD PhD, Oslo University Hospital, Norway
11.30 – 11.45	Development of adoptive cell therapy with transiently retargeted T cells Q&A
11.45 – 12.15	Tuna Mutis, MD PhD, VU University Medical Center, Amsterdam, The Netherlands CD38-targeted immunotherapy strategies for Multiple Myeloma
12.15-12.30	Q&A
12.30 – 13.30	LUNCH
13.30– 14.00	Dominika Nowis, MD PhD, Centre of New Technologies, Warsaw, Poland The role of arginase-1 in the development of antitumor immune response
14.00– 14.15	Q&A
14.15 – 14.45	Piotr Trzonkowski, MD PhD, Medical University of Gdansk, Poland Clinical perspectives of therapy with T regulatory cells
14.45 – 15.00	Q&A
15.00 – 15.30	Tomasz Rygiel, PhD, Medical University of Warsaw, Poland Cellular drug delivery method
15.30 – 15.45	Q&A
15.45 – 16.00	COFFEE BREAK